COMING NEXT ISSUE

Part 2: Descendants of Anthony M. Terrell will trace forward at least 6 generations to present day descendants who are close relatives of #62 Mrs. Nunnally and her distant cousin, #492 Mrs. Cherie L. Gentile if I receive the info in time.

This work is too large a for a single issue of Trails. It will have to be broken down into two or more issues and serialized throughout the year.

We have some photos that are too space consuming to publish in Trails. Most of those will be put into a PHOTO SUPPLEMENT and made available to those who desire a copy.

No one has been either more interested in or more dedicated to our Society than he. I hope you will take time to drop him a line and join us in wishing him a full recovery and long life. DFB

Baylee Noel LAWRENCE Arrives

By: Wendy (Edwina) Lawrence
 I am now the proud grandmother to the most amazing little girl, she was born August 11, 2001 at 3:47 p.m. (edt), in Oxford, Butler Co., Ohio, she weighed 7 lbs 3 1/4 ozs, and is 20 inches long, and she has lots of reddish blonde hair (no wonder her mama had so much heartburn). Her parents, Mark (my 2nd son) and Katina WELCH LAWRENCE have named her. She is welcomed home by her big brother (age 6) Chancellor Aaron Hendrickson. I don't know who smiled the biggest, Pappaw Rick, Mammaw Wendy or Aunt Amanda, unfortunately Uncle Matthew had guard duty or he would have gotten to see her, and joined the smiling contest. She is definitely the apple of everyone's eye. Love to all.

Children of James TERRELL and Margaret Watkins are:

4 i. William TERRELL, born between 1730 - 1732 in Caroline Co, VA; died 1797 in Caroline Co, VA; married Martha Cox before 1753.

ii. Mary TERRELL, married Mr. HERNDON.

iii. James TERRELL^{46,47}, born Aft. 1730 in Virginia; died 1793; married Judith ?.

Dicken: A. Mr. Philemon TERRELL, who it seems moved from Robeson County, N.C. to Liberty County, Ga. thence to Mississippi, left descendants living in Texas who claim descent from James TERRELL, son of William and Susannah. One of the family possesses a pair of silver knee buckles engraved with the initials "J. T.", which had been worn by his Virginia ancestor. Many years ago in writing of his ancestors, Mr. Philemon TERRELL of Texas, said that he had heard of three TERRELL brothers, William, James and John who were natives of Virginia. One he believed may have died without offspring, but the other two reared large families. James was his ancestor and he had sons, Philemon, his grandfather who moved to N.C., and he thought two others were James and Edward.

Compiler's note: As of 1986 Mr. Lake E. TERRELL [now deceased] of Sumter, S.C., was in possession of silver knee buckles which were said to have belonged to Richmond TYRRELL (b. 1624) ("TERRELL Trails," Fall 1986, p. 102). Could these be the same buckles? Lake is descended from Timothy TERRELL, son of William TERRELL and Susannah WATERS ("TERRELL Trails," Fall 1986, pp. 103-104).

iv. Elizabeth TERRELL⁴⁸, born between 1733 - 1743 in Virginia; died in Marlboro Co, S.C; married Giles NEWTON ca. 1759 in Virginia; born ca. 1734 in Henrico Co, VA; died 15 Oct 1807 in Marlboro Co, S.C.

v. Dudley TERRELL, born in Virginia; died before Nov 1777.

Dicken: One Dudley TERRELL was listed as a Sergeant with the original muster of Capt. James JOHNSON's Company in 1776, in the 6th Virginia Regiment ("Old Free State," Vol. I, p. 217).

- vi. Jonathan TERRELL, died Aft. 1766.
- vii. Nessie TERRELL⁴⁹, married John RAWLINGS 19 Jun 1781 in Charlotte Co, VA; born ca. 1736 in Virginia; died 1802 in Charlotte Co, VA. .
- viii. Patty TERRELL, married Thomas HORD.
- ix. John TERRELL^{50,51,52,53}, born 1740; died Jul 1814 in Caswell Co, N.C; married Ann BUTLER.

It is not proven that this John was the son of James (b. 1707), but circumstances make it probable.

Clarke: John's will (quoted next) was dated 8 Feb 1814 and probated in Caswell Co, N.C. in Jul 1814 (Book G, pp. 21-22):

The Will of John TERRELL

I John TERRELL of the County of Caswell & State of North Carolina being in perfect mind & memory tho in the decline of life calling to mind the certainty of death resign my body to dust from whence it came & my soul to Almighty God who gave it & as for my temporal property it hat pleased God to bless me with in this Life I dispose of as follows:

2nd I will and bequeath to my loving wife Ann TERRELL all my estate real & personal & stock with every other part not hereafter mentioned during life or widowhood.

3rd I will to my son Jonathan TERRELL fifty dollars.

4 I will to my son Joseph TERRELL fifty dollars.

5 I will to my daughters Peggy TERRELL, Fanny TERRELL & Mary TERRELL one bed & furniture each which they claim & one cow & calf each & also to my son James TERRELL one bed & furniture & sorrel mare which he claims & also one cow & calf & also my plantation whereon I now live at his Mother's death.

6th I will to my daughter Lucy MURPHY twenty shillings.

7th I will the balance of my property at my wife's death to be equally divided between my daughters Betsy Herndon, Patsey Murphy, Peggy TERRELL, Fanny TERRELL, Mary TERRELL, Sally Murphy, Isabella MORE & James TERRELL the balance of my estate not before mentioned at my wife's death. Also, I constitute & appoint my two sons Jonathan & James TERRELL, my sole esecutors of this Last Will & Testament. Nothing doubting their fidelity making void all other Wills hereto by me made in witness of the same I have hereunto set my hand this 8th day of Feb. in the year of our Lord 1814.

EDITOR'S NOTE: There is a controversy over the parentage of the following William TERRELL that may always be unresolved due to lack of surviving documents.

One theory (son of Richmond and Elizabeth) follows in this article.

Another theory is that he was the son of William TERRELL, merchant of London, England and brother of Richmond. This would make William nephew to Richmond rather than son. There are valid reasons for believing this theory. First, we do not know if the William TERRELL for whom Richmond claimed land for passage to Virginia was his brother (as many have assumed), his nephew (as supported by this theory), or another (yet to be discovered) William. Second, John D. TERRELL, Sr. of Alabama wrote to John Davis TERRELL that William and Susannah "married in New York City, then called New Amsterdam." The difficulty of travel between the colony of Virginia and what is now NYC in the 1670s make it unlikely that either William or Susannah were natives of the colony of Virginia --if this tradition is true. In those days a man usually courted and married a woman who lived within five miles of him. Furthermore, they usually married at either the home of the bride, the groom, or the nearest church.

The original theory, now discounted by most, is that he was the brother of Richmond. This would have made him over 50 years of age when he married Susannah. While not impossible, this was an era when few men lived more than 50 years, much less married and fathered this size family.

Regardless of which of these theories you accept, this does not affect the TERRELL ancestry above Richmond. It will make a tremendous difference in the maternal lines. DFB

- vi. John TERRELL^{71,72,73,74,75}, born between 1705 - 1710 in New Kent Co, VA; died Aft. 20 Sep 1783 in Franklin Co, N.C; met (1) Elizabeth HARRISON in Caroline Co, VA; born in Virginia; died in North Carolina; married (2) Sarah ? before 1741 in Caroline Co, Virginia.

John and Elizabeth were never married, and John was disowned by the Quaker church for living with Elizabeth. John Sr.'s family Bible does not list son Richmond, and his inclusion on this list is speculative (see Dicken p. 277).

Allen: John was called into court for his relationship with Elizabeth HARRISON. It was reported that he had taken Elizabeth into his home, even though he had a wife, Sarah TERRELL. [Caroline Co Order Book 1737, p. 460] Three children were born to John and Elizabeth out of wedlock. Each time, John and Elizabeth were tried by the court and placed under a bond of £50 not to meet. Even this did not stop them, and they left the Virginia Colony in 1738 [Caroline Co Order Book 1741, pp. 41-42]. The court was forced to bind out the 3 children to be raised by other families [same, Order Book 1741, p. 437]. They would be required to help with the family to pay for their upkeep. Finally, in 1749, Sarah TERRELL asked the court to allow her separate maintenance from her husband [same, Order Book p. 425]. John sold land in Caroline County in Mar 1741 (same Order Book 1741, p. 93) and in April of the next year (1742) the chancery court ordered John to place two Negroes, Beck and Amey, and one grey mare in the possession of John MAULDIN, in trust for Sarah. She was to "receive the profits from these for her maintenance during her separation and until she shall cohabit with the defendant or until the time of her death." [same Order Book 1742, p. 100]. It would have taken an act of the General Assembly to have granted her a divorce, but the county court could grant her separate maintenance. Sarah was granted permission to take over her husband's estate because he had "fled the colony" with Elizabeth HARRISON. A number of the citizens of the colony of Virginia, who did not feel they could comply with the marriage laws of the colony, went to North Carolina to live.

Notes for Timothy TERRELL and Mary Martin:

Samples: Marriage of Jemimah to William REYNOLDS is uncertain.

Wayland: Father of 14 children. Will dated and probated Feb 1763, Orange Co., N.C. The county seat of Orange was then called Childsburg, but later it was renamed Hillsboro, where his will is still on file. He was in VA. in 1741, when he witnessed a deed in Caroline Court. It is felt that he and his brother John moved to N.C. about 1743-44, probably after the death of their father. Timothy first settled in Bladen Co., where he petitioned for a grant of 600 acres 10 April 1745 (Colonial Records of N.C., Vol. 4, p. 764). Timothy was appointed by the Governor as a Justice of the Peace for Bladen at a Council held at Newbern 11 Apr 1749, was re-appointed 7 Apr 1750 and again 1 Apr 1751 (Vol. 4, pp. 951, 1046,1243, Colonial Rec.) Orange Co. was formed from Granville, Johnston and Bladen Counties, so he may not have moved. After his death, Orange was divided into Chatham, Wake and Guilford, which placed his home in Chatham, where some of his children lived. Land records show that the Earl of Granville granted Timothy 400 acres of land on 6 Sep 1754 on head branches of Terrill's Creek (Bk. 12, p. 49). He obtained other grants amounting to more than 2,000 acres, making him a man of wealth.

GENEALOGY? ASK DAN!

Q. My name is Peter van Tarel and I am living in Holland. My grandfather has done some research about our family tree. He ended up in 1650. Now I am looking where the name TAREL starts. It might be in France. I would like to know if my name could be linked to Terrell or other variations of them. Do you know if there is some proof of that? Do you have something like a family tree? Could you provide me information about my name please? I thank you very much. Peter van Tarel

A. We have many "family trees" that go from various individuals as far back as they believe they have proven their lineage. These vary from two or three generations to some who think they have the link back to Adam & Eve in the Garden of Eden. Personally, I am convinced the Adam & Eve chart is mostly mythology with no existing documentation to prove it. Unfortunately, most of these "trees" are in the possession of individual members. We do not have a comprehensive tree where we have attempted to combine them.

Our research deals with those who came to what is now the USA. These arrivals range from ca1635 to the present time -- latest that I have been informed of was 1948, but I am sure there are some that I don't know about.

We do not have any information on resources in Holland or any other foreign countries. Therefore, I cannot tell you who your ancestors were.

All I can give is some basic advice. Genealogy (family history research) begins with you and traces backward -- your parents -- your grandparents -- your great grandparents, etc. One should never begin with someone in history of a certain name and try to trace the descendants of the person to prove that he/she is one.

In most cases the difference in spelling was due to choice of record keepers. For example, my oldest proven TERREL (that's right one L, and he could sign his name) d. ca1830 in GA. His grand children and great grandchildren of the 1880s after more of the general population learned to spell used two Ls and wrote it at TERRELL.

In the courts of our country, names that sound the same are considered to be the same regardless of the spelling. This does not imply that two persons of similar age, appearance, and same name are the same, but the government went to a lot of trouble in creating a "Soundex" index based upon the letters in the first 8 letters of a name. Consonants B, C, D etc., were assigned to groups of numbers from 1 to 6. They ignored double letters and coded them only once. D & T are coded 3, R is coded 6, and L is coded 4. All vowels, A, E, I, O, U along with Y which sounds like I, and sometimes either silent or combination of sound letters H & W were ignored and not coded. They kept the first letter, and coded the first 3 of the following letters that are assigned code numbers. Therefore, T is kept and r & l are coded making T64. Since there are no more letters with codes, a zero is added making T640. This will fit most of the TERRELL variations found in this country including TARL, TURL, TAREL, TARRELL, TYRREL etc. except TERRALD which technically codes T643 (the d on the end replaces the zero with a 3).

In your case, it is necessary to glean all the information you can about your personal ancestors from your living relatives. You need to learn as much as possible about them. Birth, when, where, to whom? Marriages, when, where, to whom. Death, when & where, where buried. As much as possible about their lives, where they lived, when, what they did, children's names, where each was born, etc.

When you run out of living relatives, turn to family bibles, deeds, any other court documents that chronicle their lives.

There is probably a Church of Jesus Christ of Latter day Saints (Mormon) in your city or one nearby. They have branches all over the world. Part of their believe involves finding out the names of their ancestors for use in Temple ceremonies. Therefore, they have amassed an unbelievable amount of genealogical data from all over the world. This is kept in or near Salt Lake City in the USA, but they have family history centers in most of the churches in larger cities. Volunteers in these branches can help you find out about any individual listed in their Salt Lake City main archive. They can order microfilm from the main archive that you can view in their facility. They have much of their information committed to CD-ROM that can be searched in centers with computers. Best of all, one does not have to attend the church or even be a Mormon to use their facilities. They share with everyone and will accept information from any family researcher. Usually a volunteer can listen to your problem (what you know, and what you desire to know) and suggest the next place you should look for info in your area.

Beyond the Mormon Church, I have no idea what might be available to you in Holland. I am confident that the government maintains many different types of records, but I have not idea where each different type is kept or how much of it is available to you.

In the USA, for example, birth & death records are kept by The Bureau of Vital Statistics and stored in local Health Department offices in the county where the birth occurred as well as in the State and Federal (US) Bureaus of Vital Statistics. However, only the person, a parent, or a sibling of the person can obtain a copy of a birth certificate. Death certificates are available to anyone for a fee, but the cause of death will be blacked out. Death records are compiled from information given by a living relative or friend who may, or may not, have accurate information so these should be viewed as information to be verified rather than accepted as fact. Marriage records are kept in county court houses in the Probate Judge's office along with wills and estate divisions. Deeds and other records involving property are in the Circuit Court office in the county. Tax Assessor's office is helpful in finding current information about a certain piece of property such as where it is, how large it is, and can even provide an aerial photograph of the area containing the property.

Census records in USA are restricted for 80 years for privacy reasons. The only persons in the USA who can find themselves in the census records are those over 80 years of age.

I realize most the the above information is of little value to you -- unless one or more of your ancestors lived in the USA. However, you may be able to apply some of it to your search by determining where similar information is stored in the area where you and your ancestors lived.

The earliest use of the name that we have found was Ralf, Sire de Teril who lived on the Seine River near Paris France ca950 A.D. There is a village on the location today known as Triel, a transposition of two letters -- or so I am told. I have a cousin who lives in Paris and has been there. Also, I have another cousin who lives in the USA who has visited there.

Although we use the name in the masthead of our news letter, we do not claim that all TERRELL variations descended from him, or even that anyone living today is his direct descendant. We published an article in our newsletter a few years ago about a family who lived in Vaultravers in 1500s that Germanized the name to Vom (or Von) Graben, but there is no proof that they descended from Ralf.

At the time of Ralf, surnames were attached to individuals according to three things, either: where they lived, who their father was, or what kind of work they did. The most common was where they lived as in the case of Ralf. Each generation had a different surname as they moved and established estates. It was probably the late 1000s or early 1100s before persons started keeping the surname of their father and changing their first names.

Matters were further complicated by the fact that some nationalities started attaching prefixes to names to indicate "son of." For example the Scotch put Mac or Mc in front of a name to indicate the son of another by the same name thus the son of Tyre became McTyre, etc. Some others put "O" in front so that the son of Toole became O'Toole. The Welch put "ap" in front of the name. Therefore Rice could become Aprice and since the A was not strongly pronounced, it often was mistaken for Price. Some nationalities still use dual surnames taken from both the father and mother as Vasquez-Gonzales, with the name of the mother first.

Before the late 1800s most (over 95%) of the general population was illiterate. They could not read or write their names. The few who could, some ministers, court clerks, census takers, etc. wrote names like they thought they sounded. This accounts for the many variations in the spelling of names as shown in the variations on our web page. I hope this helps. If you find an earlier use of the name, please share it with us. DFB

Robert Adams TERRELL was a surveyor in Nacogdoches Territory, TX. The city of Terrell, TX, near Dallas, was named for him. His brother, George Whitfield TERRELL, served under Sam HOUSTON as Attorney General of Tennessee and later in the same position in Texas.

Robert settled in the area which is now Terrell, TX, and built a house, the Round House, in 1864, which still stands and has a historic marker.

Parents of Robert Adams TERRELL were James A. TERRELL and Penelope Lynch ADAMS, who were married in 1798. I have no other information about them. I do have lists of children born to each of the families above and birth dates from an old family Bible.
